

LUXURY MAGAZINE

Spring 2016

HOT ROCKS

THE STARTLING BEAUTY AND ASTONISHING ORIGINS OF FINE MINERALS MAKE THEM EXQUISITE EXAMPLES OF NATURE'S ART, INCREASINGLY SOUGHT AFTER BY AN EVER-GROWING CADRE OF COLLECTORS.

After over twenty years of specializing in the acquisition, brokerage and dealership of exceptional mineral specimens, Fine Minerals International owners, Daniel Trinchillo and Marisa Chung have become highly regarded as the most experienced pair in the international mineral market. With reputations forged by passion, diligence and excellence, they maintain the highest standards of quality and integrity in all of their endeavors.

We are now happy to bring our expertise to a public domain where visitors have the opportunity to educate themselves on the background, aesthetic appeal and value of minerals that were previously inaccessible outside of the private market and museums. Our mission is not just to sell, but to share our passion for natural art and educate the public.

Mardani Fine Minerals is a modern gallery with a functional installation space where patrons can experience first-hand how minerals can be displayed as art or décor in both a home or office environment. Visitors can see how the integration of the natural forms, colors, and textures of a mineral can bring their own living spaces to life.

After over twenty years of specializing in the acquisition, brokerage and dealership of exceptional mineral specimens, Fine Minerals International owners, Daniel Trinchillo and Marisa Chung have become highly regarded as the most experienced pair in the international mineral market. With reputations forged by passion, diligence and excellence, they maintain the highest standards of quality and integrity in all of their endeavors.

We are now happy to bring our expertise to a public domain where visitors have the opportunity to educate themselves on the background, aesthetic appeal and value of minerals that were previously inaccessible outside of the private market and museums. Our mission is not just to sell, but to share our passion for natural art and educate the public.

Mardani Fine Minerals is a modern gallery with a functional installation space where patrons can experience first-hand how minerals can be displayed as art or décor in both a home or office environment. Visitors can see how the integration of the natural forms, colors, and textures of a mineral can bring their own living spaces to life.